

"Where a successful future begins."

PO Box 129, Ulm, MT 59485

Thank you for considering sponsorship of the Rocky Mountain Breeders Association (RMBA).

The RMBA is a non-profit equine association geared towards promotion of Quarter Horses, Paints, and Appaloosas. Our membership is primarily focused in Montana, but also reaches into Wyoming, Idaho, California, and Washington. The majority of our membership cultivates a quality using horse that can perform a variety of events ranging from the sport-specific to the all-around and still be used as a ranch and general riding horse.

The association strives to offer educational and promotional opportunities through a variety of clinics, competition events, and a main event weekend with a production and performance horse sale as the highlight. Our activities are hosted in various towns across Montana.

On the 2010 Calendar of Events we already have a variety of clinics, a series of Ranch Horse Competitions with shows held across Montana, and the Production and Performance Horse Sale. There will be even more events added to the calendar as the year progresses. These events bring interest and participation to the horse industry, but also offer advertising and visitor opportunities to the communities they are held in.

Sponsorship benefits include coverage on the RMBA website at www.montanarmba.org, print media advertising in the high quality publications of the Annual Directory and Horse Sale Catalog, mention during show events, and mention in The Wrangler, the official newsletter publication of the RMBA.

Major sponsors are also encouraged to provide a banner for their business for the RMBA to display in arenas during events and the sale. Reach into your home community and others across Montana!

You may also elect to support events in your community through "added money donations." These donations go directly back into the event held in your town. With donations made back to your local event, you are helping to cultivate larger event participation and receive advertising coverage during the event.

During these economic times, your advertising dollar needs to provide you with more bang for your buck. Our membership and activities represent you all across Montana and surrounding states. Let the RMBA be a part of your advertising future!

Thank you for your support of the RMBA.
